"So nigh is grandeur to our dust,
So near is God to man,
When Duty whispers low, 'Thou must'
The youth replies, 'I can.'"

Dearest Betty,
Darling, I
think I sure got a cute
sweetheart & Santa
Claus comes. Merry
Christmas, Merry
Christmas, Happy New
Year, I love you

DRUM MAJORETTES — 1943

The Bulldog Brigade

OFFICERS

Drum Majorette . . . . . Barbara Coffin
Captain . . . . . Barbara Williams
Captain . . . . . Betty Williams
Captain . . . . . Pat Burgess
Captain . . . . . Jean Uloth

These are the leaders of the Bulldog Brigade, the girls who were responsible for the beautiful between-halves performances put on by our North Dallas Pep squad this football season.

For many years, under the leadership of Miss Bess Keller, it has successfully performed at football games, parades, and assemblies. The girls who brought you this entertainment never regretted the hours spent preparing for it. Especially during this last year have they received high acclamation for the fine work carried on.

Therefore it is with deep regret that we see the era of baton twirling, fancy strutting, and marching come to an end. Yet we know that we will always remember this pep squad which many of us had come to look upon as something permanent and lasting—permanent and lasting as football itself.

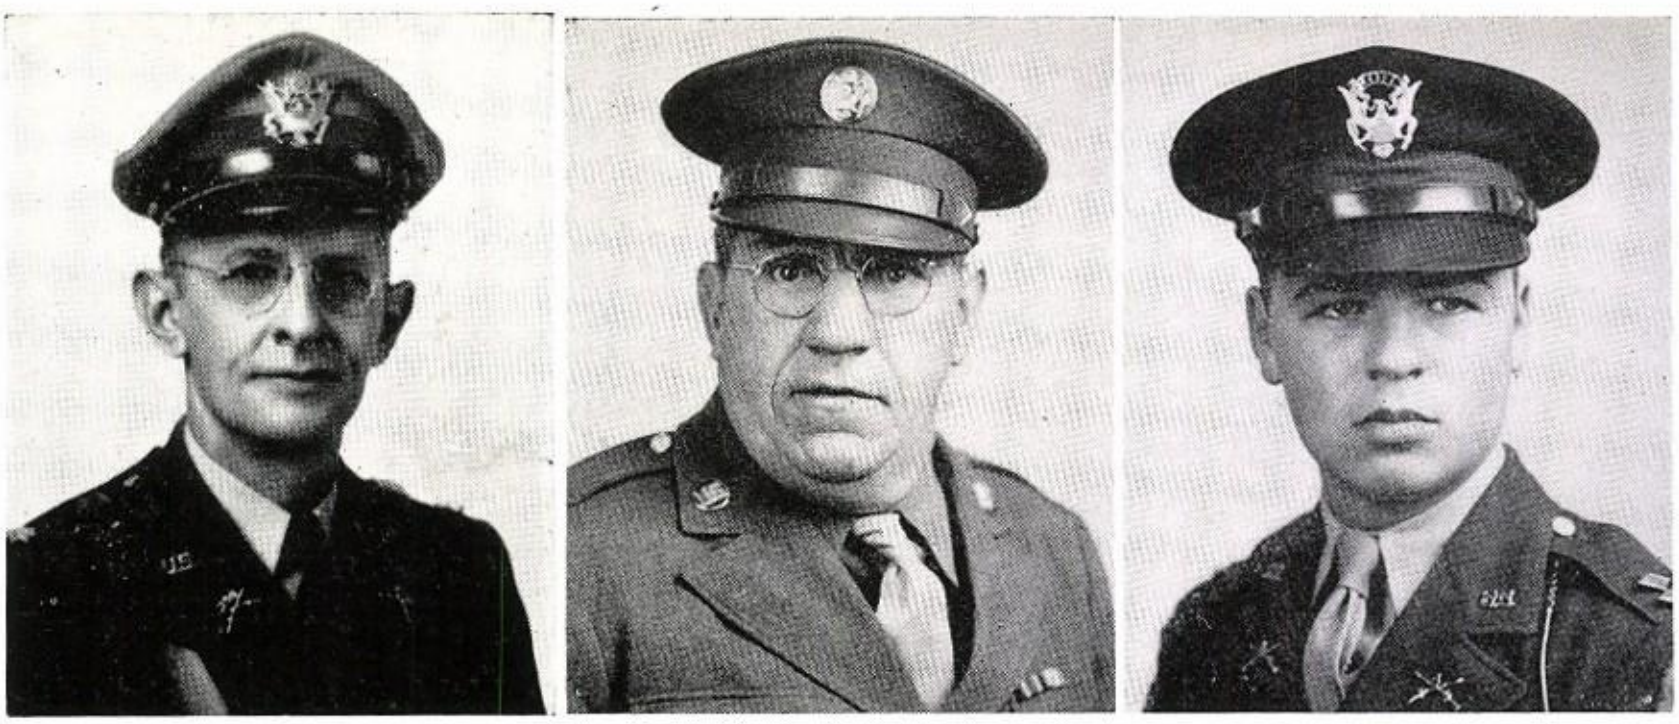
Reserve Officers Training Corps

AIMS

1. To provide systematic military training in civil education institutions for the purpose of qualifying students for appointment as reserve officers and non-commissioned officers in the military forces of the United States.

2. To add to the educational resources of schools and colleges and give students a training which will be valuable in their industrial or professional careers, as it would be should the nation call upon them to act as leaders in the armed forces.

3. To develop qualities of manliness, discipline, and leadership which will make these young men good citizens and natural leaders of men in whatever calling they may follow in years to come.



Lieutenant Colonel Dwight I. Kierbow was made Regimental Commander in February, 1944.

Staff Sergeant Fred Wiess came to North Dallas as Assistant Commandant in September, 1944. During his eighteen years in the Army, he has seen service in the Philippines, China, and Panama.

Major Harry E. Menezes, Commandant of North Dallas, has been in the United States Army for twenty-six years. He was a member of the Army of Occupation during the last World War.

Rifle Team

The sole purpose of the preparatory training in rifle marksmanship is to so ground the individual in the correct fundamentals of shooting that he cannot fail to become a good shot. In order to shoot properly, the following characteristics are necessary: a normal physique, average intelligence, good eyesight, the willingness to follow instructions, and to follow them exactly, the ability to relax physically, and quite a bit of determination.

1943 Football Season

The 1943 football squad played a ten-game city series schedule as the Dallas High Schools inaugurated a double round robin tournament for the district championship. The fighting Bulldogs had hard luck this season, but managed to win three games to place fourth in the city series. North Dallas won both its games with Adamson, and defeated the Forest Lions in one of their two contests. The Bulldogs went through the season playing hustling ball; and though they were too often on the wrong end of the scoreboard, they were unsurpassed in sportsmanship. Standouts during the season's play were Paul Collins, most valuable player and winner of the Iron Major Award, John Rowland, Henry Dickerson, Berry Boyd, Doug Self, and Stewart Smith.

Bulldogs who received letters were John Rowland, Glenn Hall, Paul Collins, E. J. Hutchins, Charles Cade, Jack Burkholder, Roy Poe, Edwin Bell, Doug Self, Bill Robbins, Tom Parsons, Bill Wilson, Dan Lowe, Carl Tanner, Reggie Davis, J. R. Probasco, Stuart Smith, Berry Boyd, Carmen Delgado, Billy Gersch, Ben Dean Sheets, and Pete Ackley, manager.

Cheer Leaders

First row: Aileen Schepp, Carolyn Dullnig, Mary Campbell, Peggy Lewis.

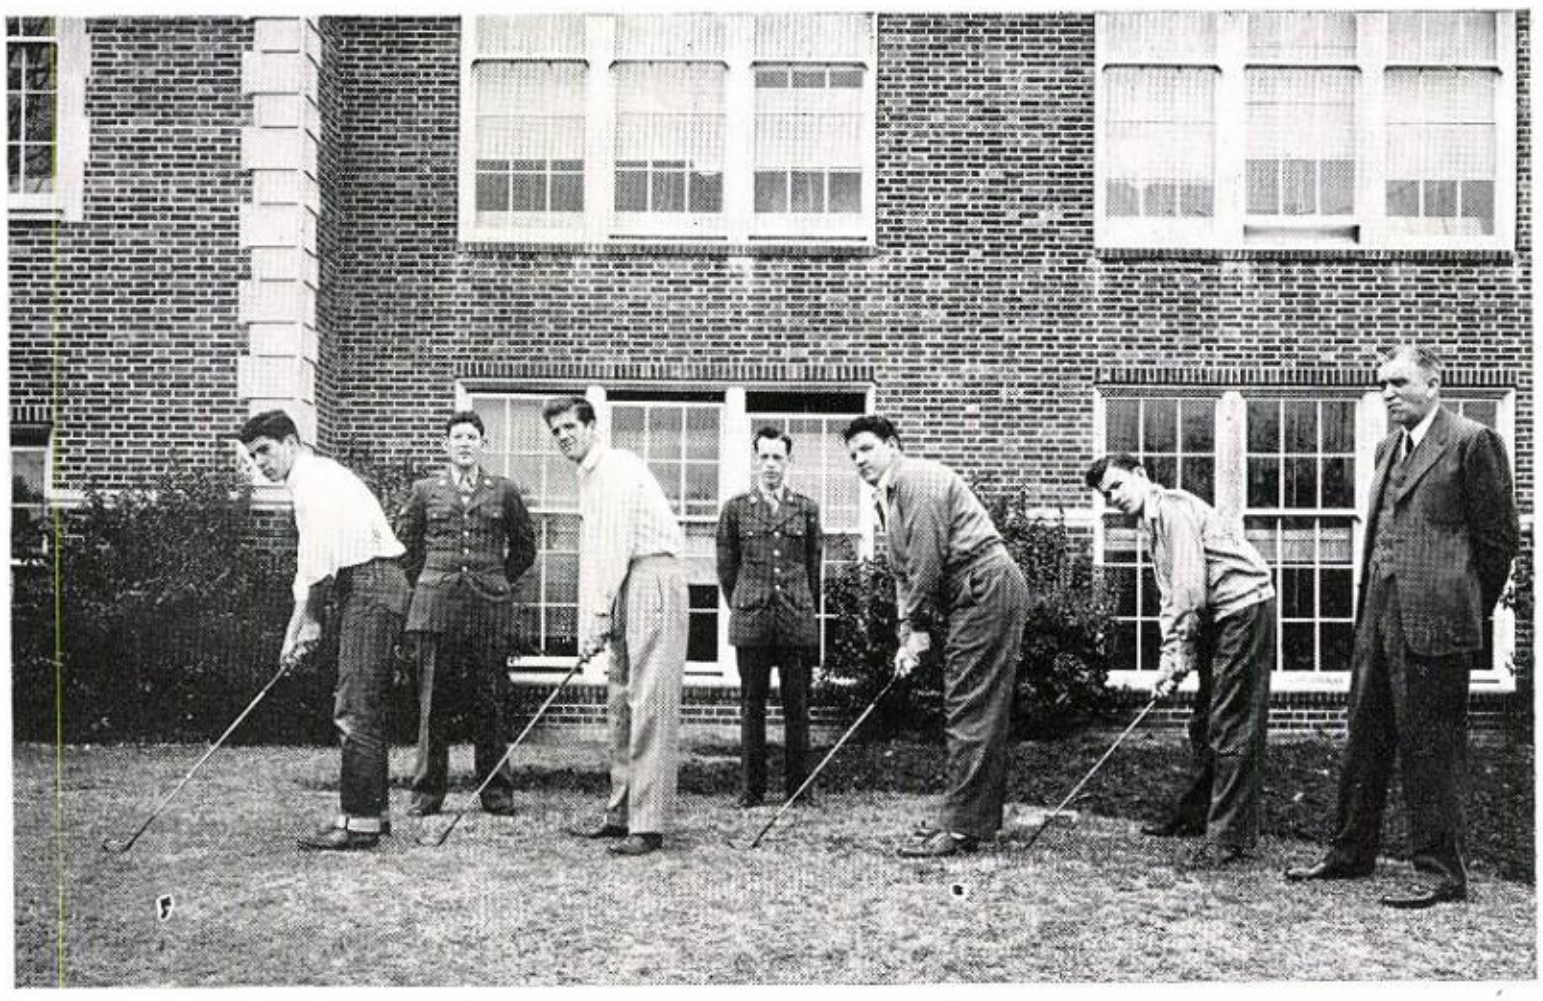
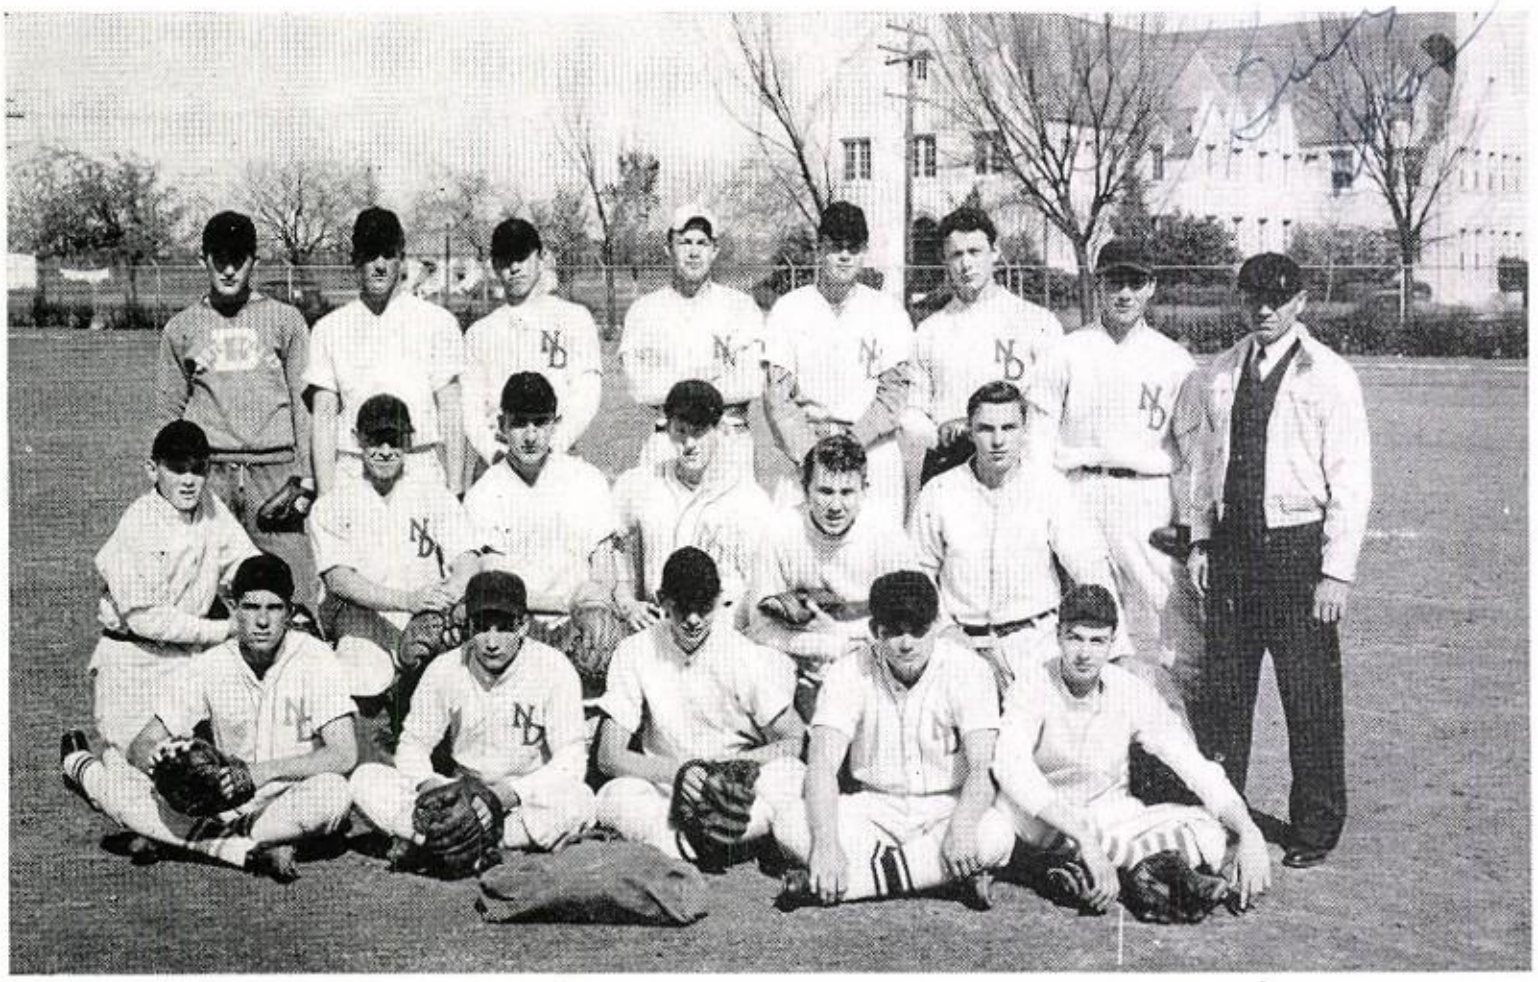
Golf 1944

The North Dallas golf team composed of Dick Carson, Charles Finnegan, Frank Haughton, Charles Cade, and Stanley Kurtz is at this writing third in the city race. Carson, a three-year letterman, has proved the mainstay of the team with Haughton and Finnegan adding needed points. Linksmen expected to letter are Carson, Haughton and Finnegan.





Baseball 1944

The North Dallas baseball team started the season with four returning lettermen. The Bulldogs have so far been on the wrong side of Lady Luck but their spirit and hustle promise that some of the favorites may have good cause to fear them before the season is over. The orange baseball squad is composed of Clifford Hadaway, Henry Dickerson, Adolph Lindsley, Ben Dean Sheats, Carl Tanner, Dick Carson, Bob Dedman, Earl Martin, Jack Carpenter, Roy Poe, O'Neal Dancer, Bill Merrill, Frank Brydon, Charles Cade, Bob Walters, Jerry Harris, Roger Lewis, and James Vardaman.

Basketball Season of 1943-44

The North Dallas basketball team of 1943 had a very successful season under their new coach, Mr. Williams. The Bulldogs won fifty per cent of their city series games to finish third in the city race. The cagers also did well in pre-season play when they turned in good performances in both Fort Worth and Dallas tournaments. In the Dallas tournament the Bulldogs defeated the highly touted Waco team which later went to the state playoff. The North Dallas basketball team won its first trophy in ten years when it won third place at the Fort Worth tournament. Some outstanding men on the court were John Rowland, Frank Haughton, Henry Dickerson, and Dick Carson. Lettering cagers were Henry Dickerson, Frank Haughton, John Hansen, Pete Hansen, Marc Moore, D. C. Chancey, Ben Dean Sheats, and John Rowland.

Track Season of 1944

The orange clad track men had the most successful team of several seasons. The Bulldogs finished second in the city meet, only one point behind the winner, Adamson, first in region, and showed up well in their practice meets. Most outstanding in the Bulldog roster were the relay teams. Both the sprint relay and the mile relay came in first in the city and regional meets and placed third and fourth respectively in the Texas Relays. North Dallas also had two of the best pole vaulters in the state, Charles Cade, and Dick Carson. Harry Kidwell, who was expected to win both the hight and low hurdle events, had hard luck in the highs, placing third, but came within three-tenths of a second of the city record in the lows.

Lettering thinly clads were Charles Cade, Dick Carson, Harry Kidwell, Dan Lowe, J. A. Marino, Frank Haughton, Lee High, and Stephen Von Phul.

Tennis 1944

The North Dallas tennis team was composed of six members: Jack Cooper, boys singles; Bob Dedman and Kenneth McAlexander, boys doubles; Gloria McDaniel, girls singles, and Franchelle Moore and Joann Cooley, girls doubles. Of these the only lettering netter was Jack Cooper, who placed second in the city boys' singles. Next year's team will probably be improved as some of this year's squadmen are returning.

A Cornell engineer boarded the train at Buffalo, and, deciding to grab a couple of winks, liberally tipped the six-foot porter to put him off at Ithaca.

"I'm a very sound sleeper," he said, "and you must take no notice of my protests. Seize me and put me out on the platform."

The next morning he awoke to find the train pulling into New York City. Raging with fury, he found the porter and began to bawl him out in strong language.

"Suh," said the porter calmly, "you've got a whale of a temper, but it ain't nothin' compared with the young feller I put off at Ithaca."

DISILLUSIONMENT

I put my trust and faith in you,
I thought I could rely.
But now I'm disillusioned,
I wish that I might die.

I made you my ideal, you see,
And so I copied you.
I should have copied someone else
For now I'm flunking, too.

They were discussing fainting at a first aid class. The instructor explained that the primary cause of fainting was a fault of circulation, and the way to prevent it was by getting the head lower than the heart. "For instance," he said, "if you feel faint and don't want to call attention to the fact, just lean down and tie your shoes."

A newly inducted parachutist received terse orders from his commanding officer before his first jump.

"Remember," he was told, "pull the first rip-cord after you count to ten. If the chute doesn't open, pull the second cord. When you land, a jeep will be waiting to bring you back to camp. That is all."

Our soldier jumped. He counted to ten very slowly and pulled the cord. Nothing happened. He pulled the second cord. Nothing happened.

"Jehosephat!" he muttered. "I bet the jeep won't be there either."

An attendant in a mental home was making his evening rounds when he came upon one of his patients fishing in a wash basin with rod and line. Wishing to humor the man, the attendant asked if he had caught anything.

"What!" said the patient. "In a wash basin? Are you crazy?"

A father had been lecturing his young hopeful upon the evils of staying out late at night and getting up late in the morning.

"You will never amount to anything," he continued, "unless you turn over a new leaf. Remember that the early bird catches the worm."

"How about the worm, father?" asked the young man. "Wasn't he rather foolish to get up so early?"

"My son," replied the father solemnly, "that worm hadn't been to bed all night; he was on his way home."

SCREWBALL

Each of two screwball cavalry rookies was given a horse.

"How are we going to tell them apart?" asked one.

"I'll cut off my horse's mane," suggested the second. So they trimmed one horse's mane, but it soon grew out again. The first screwball then cropped his horse's tail but it, too, soon grew out.

"Let's measure the horses," suggested the first screwball. Sure enough, it worked. The white horse was two inches taller than the black horse.

A colored preacher at the close of his sermon discovered one of his deacons asleep. He said: "We will now have a few minutes of prayer. Deacon Brown will lead."

"Lead!" said Deacon Brown, suddenly awakening, "I just dealt."

A recession is a period in which you tighten up your belt.

A depression is a time in which you have no belt to tighten.

When you have no pants to hold up it's a panic.

Here's what happened to one of last year's seniors:

After a heated argument with his younger brother, the elder one sought to prove his point.

* * *

She was pensive when I met her,
Sadness was on her brow.
But my checkbook made her happy,
And she's ex-pensive now.

Statistics show that Princeton graduates have 1.3 children while Vassar graduates have 1.6 children. This proves beyond a doubt that women have more children than men.

"How are you this evening, honey?"

"All right, but lonely."

"Good an' lonely?"

"No, just lonely."

"I'll be right over."

"You've been out with worse looking fellows than I am, haven't you?"

She did not reply.

"I said, you've been out with worse looking fellows than I am, haven't you?"

"I heard you the first time. I was trying to think."

"You look all broken up. What is the matter?"

"I wrote home for money for a study lamp."

"So what?"

"They sent me the lamp."

Hitler was making a tour of a German lunatic asylum. All the inmates lined up, and as soon as the Dictator appeared, stood smartly at attention and gave the Nazi salute. All, that is, except one man at the end of the line.

"Hi!" screamed Adolph. "Why aren't you saluting?"

"Don't be silly," said the man. "I'm one of the guards here, not one of the inmates."

A gold digger is a girl who forgets all about the past and the future and simply enjoys the present.

After Sunday morning services in a Boston church, a woman stayed to chat with a friend, leaving her purse on the seat. When she returned for her purse, it was gone, but she quickly found it in the possession of the clergyman himself. "I thought I had better hold it," he said. "You must remember that there are some in the congregation so simple that they might consider it an answer to their prayer."

A man was pegging along the street with a walking stick several inches too tall for comfort. A solicitous friend said, "That's a nice stick, but you better have somebody cut a few inches off that end."

"That wouldn't help," the owner answered. "It's this end that's too high."

Ike "Where've you been?

Mike: "In a phone booth talking to my girl, but someone wanted to use the phone, so we had to get out."

A father and his young son were walking one day when the boy asked how the electricity went through the lighting wires.

"Don't know," said the father. "Never knew much about electricity."

A little later the boy asked what caused lightning and thunder.

"To tell the truth," said the father, "I never understood that myself."

"Say, Pop," began the lad after a while. "Oh, well, never mind."

"Go ahead," said the father. "Ask questions. Ask a lot of questions. How else are you going to learn?"

"Does you take this woman for your lawfully wedded wife?" asked the Negro minister of an undersized, bow-legged, watery-eyed shrimp of a man standing up beside 200 pounds of feminine assurance.

"Ah takes nothin'," responded the little man gloomily. "Ah's bein' took."

"My brother swallowed a frog today."

"Did it make him sick?"

"Yeah, he's apt to croak any minute."

The fat man and his wife were returning to their seats in the theatre after the intermission.

"Did I tread on your toes as I went out?" he asked a man at the end of the row.

"You did," replied the other grimly, expecting an apology.

The fat man turned to his wife. "All right, Mary," he said, "this is our row."

A man got off a train one day, green in the face. A friend who met him asked him what was wrong. "Train sickness," said the traveler. "I'm always deathly sick when I ride backwards on a train."

"Why didn't you ask the man sitting opposite you to change with you?" asked the friend.

"I thought of that," said the traveler, "but there wasn't anybody there."

At a large dinner party a financier was placed next to a lady whose name he didn't catch. During the first course he noticed at the left of the host a man who had bested him in a business transaction. "Do you see that man?" he muttered ferociously to his dinner partner. "If there's one man on earth I hate, he's it."

"Why," exclaimed the lady, "that's my husband!"

"Yes, I know," said the financier, making a quick recovery, "That's why I hate him."

Dear Betty Ann

Honey I think you are really sweet and swell and I wish you loads of love &
much much luck
Love
Bobbie

Dear Betty A.-

Darling, I guess you know that I think you are one of the swellest girls I have ever known, and one of the best friends I have ever had. We're going to be together a lot next year, so if you think half as much of me as I do you, we should have the most time any cheerleaders ever had.-

Luck (or if you needed it) and love (as though you didn't have it)

Always
Paddy S.

Dear Betty Ann -
I think you're
just about the sweetest & adorable(est (sweet word) girl I've ever known. I sure have enjoyed being in the same dorm with you
& I'm sure I'll see
you next summer.
Love
